1. In the course of a political trial in Szczecin (Stettin), it reportedly was revealed that personnel of the Polish air unit in Slupsk (Stolp) had planned to flee abroad. As a consequence of this, the entire unit allegedly has been transferred to Biala Podlaska, 140 kilometers east-southeast of Warsaw.
2. Work on the preparation of an airfield at Stargard is in progress and the field is not far from completion.
3. The airfield at Wrzeszcz continues to be used only by civil aircraft.
4. It is reported that the only airfields in Poland where jet planes are stationed are Oksywie, Babie Doly, and Bornerowo.

1. Comment. It has been reported that the airfield at Slupsk has not been occupied for over a year. It was formerly used by a naval air force regiment which moved to Gdynia/Oksywie. Construction has been going on for some time now, and when finished, it is expected that Slupsk will be a major airfield.
